DESCRIPT

ION

A dance and video-animation show for the youngest ones, born from Joan Miro's universe. A selection of his graphic works provides the framework for the piece. The vivid colours, the geometric shapes and the apparent "totipotence" of the "figures and characters" kindle the fantasy, suggesting that anything is possible.

As by witchcraft the paintings get alive and take us to an imaginary cosmo-universe: An adventure full of discoveries and surprises.

Duration: 45 min.

Familiar show recommended
from 2 years on

Premiere: November 25th 2017,
Teatre Principal de Palma,
Mallorca

WORKSHOPS

There are three workshops bound to MiraMiró. These have been developed in collaboration with the Pilar & Joan Miró foundation - Majorca.

Constellations // from 18 years on

A movement workshop where we will work on improvisation and immediate composition. The movement of the bodies in the space will create a new, particular and ephemeral constellation choreography.

Big Bang // 12 to 17 years

Using our movement and our bodies as instruments, we will work on choreography, occupation of the space and relationship to the others, experimenting with concepts related to the creation of the universe.

Colours in motion I // 5 to 7 years

Colours in motion II // 8 to 11 years

- » The space is divided and delimited through stripes and colored ties in four spaces: blue, yellow, red and black.
- » We work to be able to dance forms and shapes such as circles, curves, straight lines and dots through the movement of the body itself, as well as through the displacement in space.
- » After observing a small selection of graphic work by Joan Miró, connecting with the different colours mentioned before, we find, inside the work, different elements that inspire and provide us with material to dance and play.
- » The children reflect on colours, symbols, shapes, elements... It wakes their imagination and emotions.
- » The children make associations between colours and their memories, discovering which emotions arise, This, gives them a lot of information to dance, and this way they can identify themselves with the different colours, experience and interpret them.
- » To finish the workshop, everybody draws a picture of the experience during the session.
- » The proposed tasks require attention, fantasy, creativity, motor commitment, spatial planning and reflection, all in a playful way.

*Duration: The sessions could last between one and three hours

COMMENTS FROM THE AUDIENCE

“Incredible MiraMiró! Pure magic! The children were completely into it. Thank you for loads of talent!”

Xarito Cortes Cortes

“The show was very attractive for both, children and adults. The kids could develop their imagination and personally I loved the technique, music and lights. Thanks to Baal for offering such marvellous shows.”

Natalia Truestorysailing

“An exquisite soundtrack and brilliant interpretations compose a really beautiful show.”

Excerpt of a review at El Comercio (05/2019)

“Thank you a lot! We loved MiraMiró... the whole family did! Very funny, dynamic and educational. Oh! The soundtrack was very well suited for the children.”

Roseta Blanca Roseta

“It is a nice and intelligent exercise. An end that reconciles everybody. It demonstrates that it is possible to extract motion from a static picture. Baal discovers that Miró, beyond colours, is air, and therefore, motion.”

Jordi Bordes · recomana.cat (12/2018)

“MiraMiró contradicts the statement of the progressive lacking attention in successive generations. The audience was attracted in a manner that it tried not to blink, so to not miss anything of what happened on stage.”

Marisa Morant · Blog danza ambosta (04/2019)
